Dear Mr. McMillen,

I want to express my sincerest appreciation to you for taking time out of your busy schedule and conducting the computer network "hacking" training seminar with our Vulnerability Assessment Unit (VAU) at Camp Murray, Washington last month. My talented soldiers will directly benefit from the knowledge you shared with them.

All in attendance were impressed with your expert knowledge and your exceptional teaching method. My soldiers can be a challenging audience at times because of their extraordinary technical expertise and broad network experience. However, you far exceeded all expectations with your fascinating lecture and your amiable style. In fact, our most knowledgeable specialist was particularly impressed by your tactic of using "net-cat" to back-door attack incoming e-mail. Very skillful indeed!

As the commander of the VAU, I am extremely pleased that every single soldier in the unit will immediately benefit from what you shared with us. We hope that we can call upon you for further consulting and training assistance as we perform our critical military mission in support of the country's military strategy.

Sincerely,

Major Wally G. Badley
Commander, Vulnerability Assessment Unit
